Lottie

Well, I hope you now know how important it is to work with each other and accept help! I mean, it's okay to work on your own sometimes, but if someone offers you a little bit of help, take it! I think Betty realises you know, that we just want to help her... I love that girl so much! We all want what's best for our friends, right? I know Betty wants the best for me too. I think she now realises the importance of people and their impact on her life. I cannot wait until Betty and I grow up and have adult jobs with our own house and our own dogs! Betty and I want to have our own businesses when were older. I think now she will be more willing to let me help her! Team Betty and Lottie for ever.
