Nosnibor

Boys and girls, I heard that you made some beautiful musical pieces to help Claire and Charlotte find their way out of the task that I put them in! They were just amazing! Well done to you all! Claire and Charlotte couldn't have completed the task without your help and they are so grateful! Throughout Zoomanji, we created background music, just like you did with your percussion instruments in your class. I hope you all loved making your own musical pieces in our last music lesson but this time, we're going to do something a little bit different. Our task today is to appreciate music. We all know how it feels to be appreciated. It feels great when we feel like our views and opinions are respected and when we feel valued by those around us. I'm sure you all felt a sense of achievement after you created and performed your own musical pieces. Well, we felt very proud after listening to the musical pieces that you created and now, we want to know what you think of our musical pieces. I can't wait to see all your lovely work.
