Sophie

Hello! I'm Sophie and I'm in Mr Robinson's class. Have you ever had to take part in online school? It's awful! If you watched our Zoom video then you will know how difficult it can be for everybody to learn at the same time. There's always someone who isn't listening or who just want to be silly and distract everybody, instead of listening to the teacher or doing their work.

But, there have been times when the class actually all gets along. And when we all listen to each other and work hard, we usually end up having more fun and we are actually able to learn. I remember this one art lesson that Mr Robinson asked us to do and it really helped the class to understand that we are better when we work together! Maybe you and your class would enjoy this art lesson as well! Why not give it a try? Listen carefully to your teacher as they explain what you're going to make and most importantly, be creative and have fun!
