Toby

Hold on to your hats because you'll never believe what I'm about to tell you: It actually happened, the whole thing! The only question I have left to ask is, 'Why didn't I get to go with them?' It sounds like they had a really fun time, a bit scary and dangerous in places but sure that's all part of the adventure! They said that they learnt a lot about each other and about themselves and how they can be better people and even better friends to one another. I just hope that the next time they decide to go inside a game that they take me with them.
